2017: The New York Ceramics & Glass Fair

Jeffrey and Beverley were at the Jeffrey S. Evans & Associates booth (#13) where they had for sale a variety of ceramics and glass reference volumes for which they are exclusive distributors as well as promotional materials and information for their upcoming auctions and educational events. Jeffrey was one of the guest lecturers, speaking on Saturday, January 21, 2017 at noon. Topic: Lighting in the 19th Century American Home.

Today we take illumination for granted, but in the early 19th century only the wealthiest had the luxury of well-lit domestic spaces. This lecture will survey glass and ceramics lighting devices employing burning fluids from whale oil to kerosene, and the significant changes this new technology brought to the average American life.
